OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY

Gartner Rose is committed to ensuring that the Health, Safety and Welfare of its employees is one of extreme importance within its operations and workplaces. Senior Management of Gartner Rose recognises and accepts its responsibility to provide an environment that is safe to work in and around for all its sub-contractors, suppliers, consultants, clients, visitors and the general public.

This is achieved through:

- Providing safe workplaces and safe systems of work;
- Preventing accidents in the workplace;
- Complying with the relevant legislation; (Occupational Health and Safety Act 2000, Occupational Health and Safety Regulations 2001, Industry Standards and Codes of Practice)
- Establish and nurture an environment of co-operation and shared responsibility for Occupational Health and Safety throughout the organisation.

To ensure that these achievements are made, Gartner Rose has developed an Occupational Health and Safety Management System which they will implement and maintain and continually improve. Important aspects to be maintained are:

- A documented system to identify actual and potential hazards in the workplace, assess their risks and control those risks;
- Ongoing education and training of personnel;
- Regular consultation and communication with employees regarding OH&S issues;
- The allocation of sufficient company resources to Occupational Health & Safety;
- Ongoing reviews by Senior Management of the company's OH&S performance including continuous reviews of the Occupational Health & Safety Management System.

All employees will be expected to demonstrate a willingness to embrace the concept of safe work practices and a safe working environment. Employees will be required to work in a healthy and safe manner whilst discouraging others from working in an unsafe manner.

This policy is but an outline of the commitment the company places upon Occupational Health and Safety within the workplace, This commitment from all concerned is necessary if the Health and Safety of all is to be achieved and maintained.
